Why We Know You'll Love It

- Dr. Ann feels strongly that the most cost-effective means to leverage her expertise to teach and motivate employees to improve their diet and lifestyles is through her recorded webinars.
- Real people respond best to the real voice of real experts.
- Dr. Ann has a proven track record of motivating and educating others.
- Organizations can host group viewings in the workplace to leverage the awesome and proven power of “social connections” for igniting behavior change.
- Employees can enjoy access to unlimited viewing.
- Detailed instructional handouts that correspond to each video module are provided for the entire program. This is like a free mini e-book! These invaluable handouts can be copied and distributed, or made available electronically to employees via the organization's intranet site.
- The entire process is completely turn-key and simple as pie to deliver to employees.
- Organizations can get Dr. Ann's award-winning Eat Right for Life® books directly from WELCOA for a steep discount. These books further reinforce the message and make the perfect incentive gift to encourage employees to take part in the program.

What People Are Saying

“The class was amazing! I learned so much. I now not only understand what, but also why. The “why” and “what happens” is what I have been missing. I can't thank you enough.” - Moir D., Columbia, SC

“I have already put your words into practice! There is an overwhelming amount of information on healthy eating available. Thank you for making it interesting and manageable. Your books are an excellent resource.
